Traditions and Ideals

This was our year — 1969. For many it was a good year, full of fun, hard work, and experiences. For others, it was just an ordinary year, with classes each day and homework each night. It was crammed with activities — meetings, games, assemblies, plays, and parties. There were last minute assignments to do, tests to study for, and absences to make up. But there were also the quiet times: the hush in the deserted halls before the bell rang between classes, the empty school at night, and the times during the day, borrowed from the busy routine, for sitting and thinking of friends and school. This was our year — 1969.

the School

At night Enid High School is empty, except for the custodians who help it get ready for another day. Quiet and peaceful the building stands, knowing that early morning will bring the chattering hustle and bustle of another day — a day that lasts from dawn to sunset, and many times much later, as a laughing group of students practice for a last minute assembly or rehearse again and again for a play or a musical concert . . . a building that has housed thousands of high school students, standing tall and sturdy . . . a place of learning.

ENID BOARD OF EDUCATION—Mr. Allie Paine, Mr. John Thorpe, Mrs. Margaret Buvinger (pres.), Mr. Wes Mounts

(v.-pres), Dr. Joe Bryant, Mr. Cleo Fisher, and Dr. Milburn Carey—meet in the central office conference room.

Enrollment Growth Challenges Board

Increasing enrollment in the Enid Public School System provided Mr. O. T. Autry, superintendent of schools, and the Enid School Board with many challenging problems.

Enid's growing school population necessitated adding three portable classroom units to Eisenhower Elementary School and to Waller Junior High School.

The School Board also provided for the paving of three new student parking lots on the east side of the high school.

The administration did a comprehensive study of a school lunch program and presented it to the patrons in a bond election where it was defeated. As always, Mr. Autry and the School Board members spent much time planning for future improvements to the school system.

MR. O. T. AUTRY, Superintendent of Schools

Mauk Continues Inspired Leadership

Beginning his second year as principal of Enid High School, Mr. Gene Mauk worked throughout the summer to prepare for the official opening of school on August 26. In spite of his many administrative duties, he had time to visit classrooms and talk with students personally.

Loyal and completely devoted to Enid High, he was an avid supporter of every phase of the school. These characteristics, along with his dry humor and his hilarious definitions on pep assemblies, made Mr. Mauk a capable, friendly and well-liked principal.

GUIDANCE DIRECTORS: Mr. Zorns Berry, Mrs. Nelle McCreary, Mr. Jere Gigoux, Mrs. Ann Martin, and Mr. Richard Snell.

Assistants Direct School Personnel

Counseling, enrolling, and informing the student body kept the Guidance Department busy. Vice-principals, Mr. Stanley Jenkins and Mr. Tom Niles, assisted this department, as well as the principal in making the school run smoothly.

Mr. Jenkins' down-to-earth humor and friendliness made his job of helping teachers and making schedule changes a pleasant one. A graduate of Phillips University, Mr. Jenkins finished his second year as vice-principal in Enid High.

Mr. Niles completed his first year as assistant principal in charge of discipline. As a former mechanical drawing teacher of ten years at EHS, Mr. Niles coached football and basketball. He graduated from Northwestern State College at Alva with B.A. and M.Ed. degrees.

EHS Loses Outstanding Teachers

Mr. Delbert King, study hall and mechanical drawing teacher, retired after five years at Enid High. A graduate of OSU, he taught in various Oklahoma schools before coming to Enid. Mr. King, being a football and basketball letterman himself, avidly supported all the school sports.

After thirty-five years of dedicated service to EHS, Miss Mildred Montgomery retired from teaching Spanish. Always seeking the best for her students, she was the key figure in changing the foreign language program from the traditional to the new laboratory method.

English Stresses Writing, Speaking

Communication, both written and oral was stressed in the English Department this year. Besides the three basic courses offered, the curriculum included classes in speech, drama, and journalism, and two special one-semester courses in Great Books and Creative Writing.

Coordinating the English program of the elementary and junior and senior high schools, Miss Eva Young, department head, made it possible to avoid gaps and repetitions in the students' work.

Publications Mirror Journalistic Skill

Room 113 teemed with excitement as the Quill annual staff raced to complete the 1969 yearbook in time to meet deadlines. Patience and responsibility were required of each staff member in order to produce a successful annual. Accuracy played the key roll throughout the pages of memories and honors.

Screening stories, typing copy, and proofreading made up the daily work of the Quill newspaper staff. Busy staff members spent long hours putting together this newspaper, which was enjoyed by the student body. Interesting news, original features, and rousing editorials appeared throughout the year in the Quill Weekly.

ings, Marcia Evers, Robert Thompson, Cindy Johnston, Miss Ruth Scott, Anita Schroeder, Phil Ronck, Jennie Wein, Joe Glasser, Vicki Bradley, Court Loomis, Arlene Vale.

Newswriters Reap Valuable Benefits

Journalism classes throughout the year gathered news from all corners of Enid High. Writing features, editorials, and interviews, newswriters organized their stories for the Quill Weekly.

Students traveled to Norman during the fall and spring for the annual conferences of the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association and to Stillwater for the High School Journalism Day.

Extra experience awaited those students who joined the Journalism Club. Outstanding newsmen, such as Bill Blair, former European Bureau Chief for Newsweek, spoke to this organization.

Miss Ruth Scott, sponsor, took advantage of every opportunity to give members practical experience in interviewing.

Top Students Excel in Science Field

TELESCOPE technique fascinates Pam Jack and Trey Parrish.

Three members of the Science Projects Class won state recognition in 1968 for their work. Marvin Kopp, Bill Morgan, and Darrell McCaslin received valuable awards with these honors.

Watching stars and learning about the universe kept astronomy students busy in the dome atop the school through many a sleepless night.

Chemistry students learned the complex formulas that make up the world around them. Those who wished to extend their interest in this field joined the Chemistry Club, which met the second Tuesday of every month after school hours.

Under the direction of Mr. Harold Duckett, the Science Department offered an excellent opportunity to obtain a firm foundation in science.

Wide Field Challenges Mathematicians

Exploration of the engineering, architecture, and data processing fields provided math students with an incentive for future careers. With algebra, geometry, trigonometry and math analysis, the math department brought these aspirations into realities.

Selected students gained an even broader view of math today in Advanced Modern Algebra and Trigonometry and Analytics.

Vitally interested senior math students participated in Delta Theta to supplement their classroom activities. Challenging lectures by college professors and exciting trips through computer sections of large corporations were some of the club's activities during the year.

Current Events Carry Student Appeal

VICE-PRESIDENT of CA, Tim Waack, plans to lead discussion at the next regular meeting.

Election year excitement brought vital interest to the Social Science Department. Following campaign news and discussing the issues supplemented the year's work.

Headed by Mr. Albert Clark, the department consisted of six different courses: world history, American history, government, economics, Bible, and Oklahoma history.

Members of these classes were eligible to join the Current Affairs Club. Various interesting speakers addressed the club on different topics of world interest. To develop an interest and understanding about world happenings was the purpose of the club.

National Recognition Comes to EHS

Habla espanol? Parlez-vous francais? Students could answer these questions with a positive yes. New equipment in the joint French and Spanish laboratory emphasized perfection of the spoken language.

Enid High School was chosen last year as one of twenty-two schools to try out new French material. Je Parle Francais, was published last year with special recognition in the front of the text book to Enid High School and Miss Addie Fromholz, head of the French Department.

Latin classes were small in size but big in enthusiasm. Once a month the fifth hour class in Cicero became a club and published the Roman Eagle, heretofore known as Roman Rumors.

Class and Club Incite Creativity

Sketching, painting, and lettering were part of the methods taught in the art classes. New techniques were originated and explained.

Members of these classes were eligible to join Palette Club to further develop their appreciation and interest in art.

Designing props, creating decorations, and exhibiting works at various art shows throughout the state were some of the club's activities. Selling concessions at football games financed the annual art trip to a place of interest.

Training Stimulates Practical Interest

CONCENTRATION and flying fingers make good typing classes.

In the Business Department, Enid High students learned the fundamentals of business skills taught in bookkeeping, general business, shorthand, and typing classes.

Stressing the importance of business education in keeping personal records, understanding fundamentals of business law, completing income tax returns and solving consumer problems, Mr. Charles Lynch supervised the program assisted by five instructors.

From the business classes, the activity office secured helpers, who assisted by selling notebooks, paper, pencils, and tickets for EHS events for the convenience of the students. With the help of the students, Mr. Charles Lynch and Mrs. Mary Lou Chastain, secretary, kept records of organization and school payments.

EHS Presses Roll with Student Ability

"Service" was the key word in the Trade Graphic Arts department. The students, as part of their training, printed the Quill newspaper, attendance slips, enrollment cards, and other forms used by the administration.

While serving the school, the printing students reaped benefits for themselves. Development of a professional skill such as this assured the boys of a future trade. Mr. Herbert Seem supervised the course.

Through Woodworking and Industrial Crafts students gained experience and know-how in a skill of lasting value. Mr. Lloyd Ray assisted the students with projects ranging in size and complexity from clipboards to large cabinets.

DE, ICT Offer Two-Fold Education

TOSSING IN a joke, speaker J. R. "Dick" Roberts amuses Mr. Gene Mauk, Debbie Linker, and Mr. Don Nelson at banquet.

"Preparing for leadership in the world of work" was the motto followed in the Industrial Cooperative Training Program this year. Through this program the students gained realistic vocational skills while developing individual aptitudes and interests.

Distributive Education identified a program which taught marketing and distribution. The DE students learned retail and commercial arts while working each afternoon in businesses. At the same time, they gained credits toward graduation while earning regular salaries.

Homemaking Skills Point to Future

Modern homemakers need to be prepared for the complicated tasks that will face them in the future. The Home Economics Department, under the direction of Mrs. Donna Henneke, gave the girls this valuable training.

In the clothing department, girls learned the basic skills of sewing and wardrobe planning. They planned and executed a tea, at which time, each girl modeled a garment she had made during the school term.

Learning the basic rules of food preparation and handling, students in the foods classes put into practice these techniques. A homecraft class provided information about household expenses and budgeting, about caring for children and managing a home.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS from the homecraft class attract Anita Sparks, Janice Sullivan, Jan Bashaw, and Diane McKenzie as they arrange an attractive display.

BEVERLY McCOOK and Jill Schinnerer dream a little as they arrange garments made in clothing classes for the Open House display.

Included as a vital part of the Vo Tech program, the Junior Engineering Technical Society was formed for high school students who planned to enter college with an engineering major. Professional associations with Mr. Taylor and Mr. Kuhlman from Vo Tech sponsored Jets.

Talent, Training Unite for Peak Effect

EXUBERANT FACES complete the chorus tunes on assembly.

Eighty-five talented juniors and seniors made up the 1969 Mixed Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Maurine Morrow Priebe. Homecoming assembly in September marked the debut of this group. With the theme, Oklahoma, the chorus presented two selections, "Surrey with the Fringe on Top" and "Oklahoma."

In December members of the chorus went to Ponca City to see the Fred Waring show which included a former Enid chorus student, Richard Taylor, now a member of the Pennsylvanians.

Christmas brought many opportunities for singing. The Mixed Chorus and the Madrigal Singers sang some new but mostly traditional music for civic clubs and the junior high schools. At the annual Vesper Service, the chorus sang sacred Christmas music.

Coronation ceremonies highlighted the annual spring program Time To Sing, Tuesday, April 29, at the high school auditorium. Susan Peterson and Terry Badzinski were crowned Queen and King of the Chorus at this time.

"Spirit!" cried the 176 band members as they hustled from formation to formation during practice. Their continuous efforts on and off the football field boosted EHS morale and brought recognition to Enid.

The first home football game saw the crowning of Sandy King, band queen, by President John Hendry while the band played "Music to Watch Girls By." Throughout the season, the band entertained with smash Broadway hits and popular survey tunes during half-time of each home game. Special features were solos, fascinating twirlers and intricate formations.

Directing the music was Mr. Eugene Griffin, assisted by Mr. David Davis. Together they led the band in district and state contests. EHS gave an outstanding performance in the annual "Symphony and Swing." Again this year, Enid hosted the Tri-State Festival in which the EHS band rated superior.

NHS Ceremonies Feature Members

Initiation ceremonies of the Errol Kesner Chapter of the National Honor Society featured its own members as speakers on October 28, 1968. Talks on scholarship, character, leadership, and service gave the new candidates an overall idea of what the National Honor Society had to offer and what a privilege it was to be a member.

The scholarship standards require that juniors and seniors have an average of 3.35 with no grade below "C" in any subject. This must be acquired while carrying a minimum of four solid subjects.

Election of members is made by a chapter council, consisting of the principal and the faculty advisory committee.

Projects for the year consisted of letters of commendation to sophomore students with honor grades and the maintenance of the guidance library.

COUNSELORS salute National Merit finalist, Jana Minton.

ONE OF MANY Student Council projects nears completion as Christmas trees and food baskets are loaded in the truck to be distributed by Salvation Army to Enid's needy families.

DISPLAYING their "Pride of the Plainsmen" awards, D. Bruce Selby for education and Marvella Hern Bayh for civic leadership are stirring examples of the high excellence achieved by former Enid High Plainsmen in their respective fields.

Council Tries for Total Participation

Welcoming, befriending, and urging new students to enter into the busy life of EHS was the purpose of the new students' party, the first activity sponsored by the Student Council. Homecoming, Open House, the Christmas and Valentine post offices, student directories, and class elections provided the council members with hectic schedules as the year progressed.

The Council conferred the "Pride of the Plainsmen Award," an honor given to those graduates of EHS who have achieved recognition in such fields as literature, military service, athletics, or education. Recipients include Owen Garriott, Marquis James, Bess Truitt, DeWitt Waller, Henry Bass, Marvella Hern Bayh, Francis Cherry, D. Bruce Selby, O. T. Autry, and Leon Vance.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS Ertel Hall (pres.), Layton Wilson (v.-pres.), Sandy Manahan (sec.), Tim Wright (treas.), and Court Loomis (rep.) leave the building after helping sophomores with puzzling enrollment procedures before fall.

Senior Days Filled with Final Flurry

Sadie Hawkins' Week, Career Day, our senior play, The Man Who Came to Dinner, and such events as the May Fete, Graduation, and queen crownings made this year one that will not soon be forgotten for the Class of 1969. Anticipation, hope, and eagerness for the days to come were often set aside as seniors remembered good times, friendships, and memories their years at high school contained. Diplomas and handshakes symbolically brought to a close the high school lives of the class, but all realized that the memories would live on and be vivid in future years. For the Class of '69, this was a beginning as well as an ending.

Special Interests and Events

Club meetings, practices, entertainments are only a part of the many activities found in Enid High School. Two meetings on the same day at the same time, overlapping projects, and frayed nerves are a few of the problems that arise when there are so many things offered. Any student at Enid High can "find himself" and express his true talents, whether they be playing a musical instrument, discussing politics, or taking part in recreational activities. Enid High's many organizations provide means for students to express their interests and ideas.

Original posters, fluffy pom poms, innumerable streamers, and ingenious mottoes filled EHS halls each Friday. Bravettes spent many hours making the decorations and devoted each Thursday night to putting them up.

Homecoming, Bravette assembly, an out of town bus trip to Midwest City, and cheerleader try-outs kept the pep club busy during the year. Proceeds from selling Homecoming mums helped finance the bus trip and materials for decorations.

By generating spirit and encouraging student body support for school activities, Bravettes promoted enthusiasm throughout the school.

Leading the pep club this year were officers in new uniforms. The "new look" included navy blue blazers and skirts with the girls' offices printed in white on the back.

Interest Soars As Membership Grows

IN BACKFIELD, Gail Copeland watches Sally Chambers return the volleyball while Vicki Comstock stands ready to help.

With a booming interest and a marked increase in membership, the Girls' Recreation Association began the year. Their sponsor, Mrs. Phyllis Stringer, stressed the importance of good sportsmanship, discipline, and ability to get along well with others. Every Monday at 3:45 the girls met to perfect their tennis, golf, badminton, table tennis, tumbling and bowling.

For taking part in practice sessions and for pursuing the sport in which each was most interested, the girls received merit points. At the end of the year the points were totaled and GRA honored those girls having the most points. The outstanding girl over a three-year period received a trophy for excellence in sports.

Government Draws Teen-Age Interest

Four Enid High School girls and seventeen boys attended the 1968 session of Girls' State and Boys' State. The American Legion, together with other community organizations, sponsored the students. Committees from each club selected them according to their outstanding achievements in leadership, citizenship, and scholarship.

Heated debates, lively discussions, and a study of the functions of government were activities of Hi-Y for boys and Tri-Hi-Y for girls. These clubs, sponsored by the YMCA, gave members comprehensive knowledge of government. Study of state legislature ended in submission of members' own bills to the legislature for approval.

Student Workers Serve Enid High

General office workers of Enid High School helped ease the load of the administration's secretaries. They collected attendance slips, delivered office and telephone messages, and showed new students to their classes. Mrs. Florence Scott, Mrs. Dorothy Hess, and Mrs. Edna Newman sponsored this fast-moving group.

Library assistants were up to their usual efficiency this year. Meetings every Wednesday during the homeroom period kept them aware of their duties. These included repairing books and arranging them on the shelves and seeing that they were checked out of the library properly. Mrs. Rosamay Lynch was the head librarian.

For its 1969 service project, the club continued its volunteer work at the Enid State School, including a Christmas party for the children with gifts, refreshments, and Santa Claus. Ten members also worked at St Mary's Hospital throughout the year as candy strippers.

Sponsors were the school nurse, Mrs. Peggy Peckham and Mrs. Margaret Buvinger of the Garfield County Medical Auxiliary.

FTA Plays Santa to Fifty Youngsters

AIR-BORNE Peggy McClanahan takes orders from Tammy Quigley, while decorating the tree for the annual Christmas party.

Presents, games, and Santa Claus helped make the Christmas holidays more fun for fifty children at the annual Christmas party for underprivileged boys and girls. With the help of the Salvation Army, the Future Teachers of America sponsored this party on December 14 and provided entertainment, refreshments, and gifts.

The club held teacher appreciation week in February. All teachers, including those retired from the Enid School System, were honored with special gifts and activities during the week.

In their scheduled meetings, FTA considered all aspects of the teaching profession. Members listened to speakers and discussed teaching opportunities, requirements, and the importance of the role teachers play in our democracy.

Motto Inspires Hardworking Thespians

"Act well your part; therein the honor lies," served as the motto for the Enid Thespian Troupe 1263. These words were the basis for the enthusiasm and drive the group possessed. Prospective Thespians gained coveted membership by earning a minimum of ten service points.

Ushering, selling tickets, and performing in plays and assemblies were ways of fulfilling these membership requirements. Formal initiations in fall and early spring consisted of a program and a solemn ceremony in which new members received a certificate of membership.

Talent Revue

Jazz dancing, a barbershop quartet, a humorous interpretation, and various solos made up the talent displayed in the third annual All-School Talent Revue held December 6.

Sponsored by Thespian Troupe 1263, the revue was a competitive contest. Faculty judges selected contestants who then competed in the actual revue. Seven competent judges selected the five winning places.

Winners of the 1969 contest were Denise Gilkey, twirler, Lana Lukenbaugh, dancer, Laurel Griffeth, pianist, Phil Rogers and Ron Christensen, trombonists, and Donnie Record, folk singer.

Sports

Sports play a major role in the lives of students at Enid High School. For those who participate, they mean long hours of hard work, physical output, and stamina. For those who watch, sports mean pre-game tension, excitement, and elation or disappointment when all is over. Much time and effort are devoted by the student body to support the teams, keeping the morale high. Pep assemblies, decorated halls, and all-out enthusiasm for Enid High's Plainsmen are important parts of the school.

Big Blue Wins Yardage, Loses Points

Enid's Plainsmen, losing two early games, on costly mistakes and penalties, forged a 7-4 record season and then fell prey to crippling injuries once again at the midway point.

One game that will remain in the memories of the Plainsmen was the Enid-Putnam City game. Fans who saw the game sat in on something that may never happen again. A team managed only one first down and yet won 8-0. All eight points that the Pirates came up with were actually scored off the Enid offense, two on a safety and the touchdown on a fumble return.

Plainsmen pushed Putnam City all over the field the first half and yet couldn't score. A 27-yard touchdown, run by Gordon Williams, was wiped out by a penalty. A red flag nullified another promising drive, and a slip cost another. Seldom, if ever, has one team dominated another the way Enid dominated Putnam City and yet come out on the losing end.

MANAGERS Jim Kutz, Kent Duckworth, Ertel Hall, and Trip Moore inspect the new football helmets.

Practice Warm-Up Prelude to Action

A unique incident marked the 1969 football season when Coach Alvin Duke was accidentally blocked while standing on the sidelines during a practice session. The accident resulted in his having to wear a cast and use crutches the rest of the football season due to torn ligaments around his knee.

Six Enid gridders made Mid-State Conference team: Dennis Baker, Bill Stehr, Gordon Williams, and Allen Wilhite made halfbacks; Keith Lea made end, and Craig Vance, nose guard. Gordon Williams also captured All-State honors with Dennis Baker as alternate.

Enid Highlanders shut down an excellent season with a 7-1 record.

Enid Jinxed by Few-Point Losses

ENID'S SPIRIT RISES high as Greg Newton (32) tips the ball to Larry Hughes (21) and a Grant player in Grant-Enid game.

MANAGERS, Bobby Payne and Jim Barnard, watch.

Losing games by a close score was a problem which plagued the 1968-69 basketball team. From the very start, the Plainsmen could not get the few points necessary to win the game.

Beginning the season at the Pampa Invitational tournament, the basketball Plainsmen lost to Pampa Harvesters by three points. From there they opened their Mid-State conference at Mid-West City where they lost by two points.

In the Oral Roberts tournament, Enid came up against the Tulsa Hale Rangers in the first round of action. Typical of the season's record, Enid lost when the Rangers sank a last minute shot, downing the Plainsmen by one point. In the first part of the season, Big Blue lost six games by only ten points.

CONTROLLING rebound, Perks and Newton hold Trojans.

PLAYERS AND MANAGERS consult with coaches for strategy.

Returning starters for the Enid Plainsmen Roundballers were Tim Wright, Chuck Groves, Mike Perks, and Larry Hughes. They provided the nucleus and leadership for the season. Sophomore Greg Newton, tallest member of the team, filled in the remaining starting berth as center.

Top scorers for the Big Blue Basketbblers were Chuck Groves and Tim Wright, competing for high points, while Larry Hughes and team captain Mike Perks turned in good efforts in the rebound department. Other returning seniors were Tim Waack, Ron Cordell, and Alan Stroup.

Coach Dusty Eby won his 100th game when the Plainsmen beat Putnam City. After the game Coach Eby received a plaque for his outstanding record at Enid High School. The plaque was inscribed with names of the 1968-69 team.

B-Squad Promises Winning Future

SPIRITED B-teamers work for rebound against Grant Generals.

Racking up an impressive record of 14-8 in the 1968-69 basketball season, the Highlanders presented a good outlook for future Plainsmen teams. Consisting of sophomores and juniors aspiring to become members of the varsity team, the Highlanders played several tournaments besides the usual Mid-State conference teams. With lots of hustle and hard work they showed what it takes to become Plainsmen.

EHS Trackster Races Fastest Mile

ALL ALONE, David Henneke perfects his pole-vault.

Despite a lack of experience, Enid's 1968 track team completed a successful season under Coach Alvin Duke. Top man was Ronnie Major, who consistently took firsts and seconds in the mile and half-mile all year. He also turned in the fastest high school mile in Oklahoma by winning in 4:19.8 at the Tulsa Meet of Champions.

In the State Decathlon Meet at Enid, Rod Richardson took second, while Mike Martin placed fifth. Other Plainsmen who turned in fine seasons were David Henneke, pole-vault, Alan Camp, shot-put, and Wes Jurey, distance run.

Injuries Plague Cross Country Team

Enid's Cross Country team under the direction of Coach Lloyd Ray was in for a trying season. The Big Blue Harriers were never at full strength throughout their 1969 season. Handicapped by illness and injuries, the team strided to a sixth place in Mid-State and a tenth place in the State Cross Country Meet.

Outstanding distance runner for the year was junior runner, Kim Wilson. Kim placed seventeenth in the State finals from a field of over one hundred runners.

Team captains for 1969 were Jack LaCroix and Tim Choate, both three-year lettermen.

Big Blue finished the season with 27 wins and 8 losses. A 10-5 conference record placed them second in a strong Mid-State Conference.

Swim Team Shows Big Blue Spirit

Coach Bob Banister opened the 1969 swimming season with twelve boys. Though the team was small, it made up for its size in spirit.

Quality counts, and quality was Trey Parrish, who was the usual double winner in back-stroke and individual medley; Bill Buvinger, who showed his strength in the backstroke; Tom Curths, whose specialty was the butterfly; Randy Gregory, who displayed endurance in the 400 yd. free style; and Greg Franklin with his breast stroke.

Trey, a senior and four-year letterman, lead the team in total scoring points. His all time high was in the high seventies, which he scored in his freshman year. Still leading, Trey racked up a total of sixty-five points. Bill Buvinger, a junior and three-year letterman, scored the second highest number of points for the year.

ENID

OKLAHOMA

My father, Gene McConkay, in 1910 made the first pictures for the QUILL Annual. Through these 59 years, Enid High has put out an annual except one year during the depression, but the McConkays still made the photographs for that year so the senior pictures could be hung in the hall.

The past 41 years I have been the photographer for Enid High School, although it seems only a short time. But looking back through some of these QUILL Annuals I remember making pictures with an 8 x 10 camera using flash powder. I used to smoke up a lot of rooms through the building with open flash. Now better equipment enables me to work faster.

In these last 41 years, I have been knocked down at football games, tackled, had two camera's broken, and two ribs cracked; but with the next game I would be ready for more. Neither rain nor cold would make me miss a game at home.

I have enjoyed working with this new generation, with the teachers that have been here for many years and those just starting.

I want to express my sincere thanks to Mr. Mauk and his office staff, Janette Norman, faculty and members of school body, for time and patience putting up with me.

FOR THE ENID HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL BEST WISHES
To The 1969 Class

The Enid Business College is Oklahoma's oldest (74th year) and largest business school, with over 20,000 graduates. Many EHS graduates attend the Enid Business College every year and go out to successful, profitable business careers.

Our courses are nationally approved in the secretarial, accounting, and clerical fields. Teachers take a personal interest in every student and his success. The college maintains fine machines and equipment for students to work with. When a student finishes a course at EBC, the college helps him find a desirable position.

If you are interested in a business career for yourself, we invite you to visit the Enid Business College, to see the school and to talk over your plans.

Keeping Faith

With lockers emptied, books returned to the library, and final goodbyes said, Enid High School closed its doors on another year. Graduation saddened the hearts of many. Parents proudly congratulated their "grown-up" children. College and broad futures awaited seniors. Some went to serve their country; others went to apply for jobs; but for all graduates, a new horizon lengthened before them as they ended high school careers.

It was a good year — a year of friendships, knowledge, memories. As the last class period ended, sophomores and juniors resolved to put the past behind them and to study harder and do better next year. But for the seniors, this year — 1969 — was our year, and it would not be forgotten.

BEGINNING A NEW TRADITION, Enid High School Seniors hold graduation ceremonies at Plainsmen Field in 1968 for the first time.
